This edition of Frank Wood's A-level Accounting has been restructured to match closely the AQA A-level syllabus, now covered in the first fifteen chapters. In particular coverage of partnership accounts, now in one chapter; all company accounting is covered in one chapter; and standard costing and variance is covered in a single chapter. The book builds on a first course in accounting and includes coverage of the more advanced aspects of financial and management accounting. As well as providing instruction and practice in the preparation of accounting information, the text stresses the need for students to understand the business reasons behind accounting techniques. A continuing strength of the book is the large amount of question material. Recent past questions from the main examining bodies are included as well as a useful guide to examination techniques at A-level.

'An excellent book, well written with each chapter building logically on the last, allowing students to build their knowledge in manageable steps.' Stephen McNamee, University of Ulster

Current evidence points to management accountants using traditional software (such as spreadsheets) for budgeting, ABC, balanced scorecards and other performance management techniques independent of, rather than integrated with Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) Systems. While there has been some limited research on the effects of ERP systems on management accountants, this report provides a comprehensive analysis of the consequences of implementation of ERP systems for management accountants. • This report provides a theoretical basis for studying the impact of Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) systems on management accounting and provides critical insights into the opportunities provided by ERP systems for the most efficient use of management accounting techniques. • The seven UK case studies of ERP implementations reveal the correlation between the success of the system implementation and the development of the role of management accountants in business partners thereby identifying the changes and skills required of management accountants. • The book provides guidance to management accountants on the changes they need to make in order to achieve the most from an ERP system implementation.

Frank Wood's Business Accounting Volume 1, the world's best-selling textbook on book-keeping and accounting, continues to provide an indispensable introduction for students and professionals across the globe.

This book has been devised to enable students to attain knowledge and understanding in carrying out cash and credit transactions in accounting. It has been structured into a number of parts to enable students to undertake a particular topic to meet their specific needs. Whilst the book centres on the two main topics of Recording and Accounting for Cash and Credit Transactions, other topics, such as Introduction to double entry have been included, since competence is needed in the double entry system of book-keeping when undertaking accounting transactions. Each chapter in the book includes 'Student Activities' to enable students to assess their progress. Practice assessments have been devised to simulate the AAT Central Assessments and the ACCA Multi-choice assessments. These are designed for the student to gain a valuable indication as to their competence and readiness for undertaking either the AAT or ACCA assessments. Transaction Accounting for NVQ Level 2 is suitable for students studying the following courses: the Lead Body for Accounting NVQ Level 2, AAT Foundation NVQ Level 2, AAT Diploma in Accounting (for non-UK students), ACCA Accounting Technician Certificate and Edexcel Accounting at NVQ Level 2. It is also ideal for other accounting courses where a basic book-keeping knowledge and understanding is required.
