transactions. The general ledger is more of a summary at the account level of every business transaction which comes from various journals containing chronological accounting entries. This information entered into the journal and summarised into the ledger is then aggregated further into a trial balance, which is used to generate the financial statements of the business entity. // GENERAL JOURNAL vs GENERAL LEDGER (Comparison Table)

1. Meaning Journal is the first entry of financial transaction that is rightly summarized and recorded as per the double entry system. Ledger is recorded from the journal in a "T" format and is the source of trial balance, income statement, and balance sheet.
2. Which is more important? Journal is more important than ledger because if it is done wrong, ledger can't be done right. Ledger is dependent upon the correctness of a journal because if the journal is recorded right, the ledger will follow along.
3. Format The format of a journal is simple and we include date, particulars, ledger folio, debit amount and credit amount. The format of the ledger is "T" format where we use date, particulars, and amount in each side.
4. Label Journal is called "book of original entry". Ledger is called "book of second entry".
5. An act of recording The act of journaling is called journalizing. The act of ledgering is called posting.
6. How is the entry recorded? In a journal, the entry is recorded as per the date of the transaction. In ledger, the entry is recorded account-wise.
7. Narration In a journal, the narration is must to understand the nature of entry. In ledger, the narration is optional.
8. Necessity of balancing Balancing is not required in journal. Balancing is

In Writing Anthropology, fifty-two anthropologists reflect on scholarly writing as both craft and commitment. These short essays cover a wide range of territory, from ethnography, genre, and the politics of writing to affect, storytelling, authorship, and scholarly responsibility.

Anthropological writing is more than just communicating findings: anthropologists write to tell stories that matter, to be accountable to the communities in which they do their research, and to share new insights about the world in ways that might change it for the better. The contributors offer insights into the beauty and the function of language and the joys and pains of writing while giving encouragement to stay at it—to keep writing as the most important way to not only improve one's writing but to also honor the stories and lessons learned through research. Throughout, they share new thoughts, prompts, and agitations for writing that will stimulate conversations that cut across the humanities. Contributors. Whitney Battle-Baptiste,

He had given $25,000 in savings to charity, abandoned his car and most of his possessions, burned all the cash in his wallet, and invented a new life for himself. Four months later, his decomposed body was found by a moose hunter. How Christopher Johnson McCandless came to die is the unforgettable story of Into the Wild.
