During 1924, before his last address in September, Rudolf Steiner gave over eighty lectures on the subject of karma to members of the Anthroposophical Society. These profoundly esoteric lectures examine the underlying laws of reincarnation and karma, and explore in detail the incarnations of certain named historical figures. In Rudolf Steiner's words, the study of karma is '...a matter of penetrating into the most profound mysteries of existence, for within the sphere of karma and the course it takes lie those processes which are the basis of the other phenomena of world-existence...' In this second volume of the series, Rudolf Steiner considers individual karmic relationships in history - for example Marx and Engels - as well as surveying karma in human life, the shaping of karma after death, and the "cosmic form" of karma.

From the moment that Marie von Sivers met Rudolf Steiner in 1902, their relationship became key to the development of Anthroposophy. Marie Steiner's immense contribution is well known in the fields of eurythmy, speech, and the arts, as well as in her management and publication of Steiner's literary estate--indeed, she assisted in almost every aspect of Rudolf Steiner's work. So why has she been so neglected by the anthroposophic movement? Driven by this central question, the authors of this penetrating study concluded that the karma and mission of Marie Steiner-von Sivers is vitally important to the present and future spiritual and cultural development of the West. They evaluate not only Marie's twenty-three-year partnership with Rudolf Steiner, but also her three previous incarnations--in the ancient Orphic Mysteries, as the Neoplatonist Hypatia, and as Albertus Magnus. The lives, acts, cultural legacies, and thought of these various personalities are addressed through a series of lucid essays, interspersed with studies on the missions of both Rudolf and Marie Steiner. These are supplemented with short extracts from literature that reverberate with the word, helping to reveal the intimately intertwined karmic missions of Marie Steiner-von Sivers and Rudolf Steiner, her work companion and soul partner.

The book dissects the consciousness to break the myth of the static mind. The realities of existence and the forces that question the controversies in the mind invoke reactions and impact the beliefs. The digression from the values and ethics distort the truth disturbing the ideology and placidity of the mind resulting in Karmic Illusions. Karmic realization initiates a positive vision to once again establish the principles of inner expressions or the dharma of origin. That all subjects have a defining tenet, the perception is influenced, resulting in reflections that can have undefined time. Only when there is transcendence of spirit through understanding the conditional realities and the impelling impermanent influences, that one attains Nirvana. The invoking of the soul brings forth the 'fundamentum inconcussum' that shows the rational Being, when the seed of birth is revealed. All panic states stand corrected once the source is understood, devoid of fallacies. Only the soul can show the breath of life in the correct discipline. Though relativity might exist vis-a-vis the values, only by making our conscious pure can a person give up the skeptic arguments and rising doubts regarding the beliefs. Ignorance leads to confusion and one is led astray from truism, draining the self of all evaluative capacity - destroying the evidence of strong judgments. The reality then is a result of suppositions borne of Karmic Illusions that are against one's universal principles or dharma. The scope is to transform the subjective associations in the mind to a non dual state where reasoning is not dead reckoning. By nature the individual is reticent and thus the spirit remains enmeshed in trivialities. There is realization of self, where consciousness in deep thinking and in exigency does not falter in subjective interpretations. Here one understands the negotiating mind. The book examines the influence of thoughts that make up the consciousness where the mind makes legitimate decisions only when one precisely defines the false suggestions; the illusions that are a phenomenon in their own. As karmic actions of past and present govern the future, it is important to understand man as a "Being" of time and alive with the impressions of ego and emotions. This helps to realize the anima or inner nature. The final deliverance, having realized a birth of choice proves the fact that there is no surrogate to the universal truth and nothing can replace the inseparable qualities of the Being.

While studying Evolutionary Astrology with Jeff Green, regression therapist Patricia Walsh realised that the potent combination of the two disciplines could help to resolve current issues which have their roots in past life experiences. The types of issues that arise in past life regressions to be healed are also the exact dynamics that Evolutionary Astrology aims to describe.

Based on personal knowledge and intimate interviews with his subject, as well as access to W.J. Stein's archive of letters and documents, Tautz's biography is a thoroughly-researched and lovingly-detailed study of an exceptional life. Walter Johannes Stein (1891-1957) was one of the original pioneers of anthroposophy. A student of the Austrian philosopher Rudolf Steiner, Stein met his spiritual teacher whilst studying at Vienna University. After serving in the First World War, Stein was invited by Rudolf Steiner to teach History and Literature at the fledgling Waldorf school in Stuttgart, despite the fact that Stein's doctorate was in Philosophy and his training in Mathematics and Physics. Through his efforts to master the new disciplines, and with the aid of unconventional methods of research, Stein developed groundbreaking new insights into the story of Parzival and the mystery of the Holy Grail, which led to his seminal book The Ninth Century and the Holy Grail. Tautz describes Stein's close friendship with Eugen Kolisko, his struggles to help establish the threefold social order, his work as a Goetheanum lecturer, and his eventual estrangement from the Anthroposophical Society following Rudolf Steiner's death. After journeys of discovery across Europe, Stein landed in London in 1933 – a refugee from the Nazi aggression in Central Europe – where he met his mentor D.N. Dunlop. Dunlop employed him to help establish the first World Power Conference. Based in England for the last 24 years of his life, Stein became a prolific and popular lecturer and the editor of the important anthroposophical journal The Present Age. Long out-of-print, the new edition of this important work is a welcome addition to the growing number of biographies on the founders of anthroposophy.

The first encounter with a soulmate isn't something you can compare to any other encounter. Many people will instantly realize that this is a special kind of partner. Often, a feeling arises as if you were looking into your own eyes or as if you were standing in front of you in person, which is a result of great love connecting the two soulmates. Usually, the male soulmate withdraws from his female soulmate after a short time, which is very difficult for her to understand because the only thing she'd like is to be together with him. The more he withdraws or acts in the opposite direction of what he has been saying to her, the more she believes that she's imagining everything or even that she's ready for a mental hospital.

Thereby, she may get trapped in a waiting position or feel great suffering, which seems very much the same as infernal anguish. These and further questions will be explained in this first part: - Why the male soulmate always withdraws. - Why at the time of their encounter, the male soulmate is mostly bound to someone (in a relationship). - Why the male soulmate usually tries to start a relationship with other women. - Why you`ll wear a stigma of a crazy person if you tell someone about this connection. - Why she has to suffer so much because of his withdrawal and what it all means. - Which individual phases you have to go through with your soulmate and what happens in each of them. - What kinds of behavior you should possibly avoid with your soulmate, especially if you are experiencing neediness.

It is not by chance that you`ve discovered this little book, but rather due to your soul which has led you to this point in life. Do you happen to be searching for answers because you`ve met someone who is making you feel miserable? Sounds like you`ve encountered a soulmate. Do you feel as if you could relate to the following questions or do you happen to find yourself in them? - "Why is he/she always withdrawing from me?" - "Why does he/she act contrarily to what he/she is saying to me?" - "Why does he/she get involved with another person, and not with me?" - "Why do I suffer so much when he/she withdraws from me?" - "Why do such incredible things happen, which cannot be a matter of chance?" - "Why do others think I`m crazy if I tell them about this connection?" If you seem to answer most of these questions with a "yes," then you`re most certainly without being properly grasped, and fade away in the course of life." In this unique lecture, Rudolf Steiner presents a practical exercise for understanding karma. He points to the ordinary events of life, encouraging us to take an image of a single event and meditate on it. He describes the method in great detail, and explains how, over several days and nights, the image is incorporated into our various spiritual bodies. Eventually, the image reaches the physical body in a transformed state, leading to a perception of a previous earthly life and the cause of the event first pictured in meditation. The audio edition, complete and unabridged, is read by the actor and speech teacher Peter Bridgmont, author of Liberation of the Actor.

At the end of his life, Rudolf Steiner took up the task that was his special destiny: to bring to the West a knowledge of reincarnation and karma. To do this, he gave over eighty lectures in 1924 in which he explicitly and concretely revealed the destinies of various individuals from one life to the next in order to show how the general laws of karma operate in individual cases. He also revealed many details of the karmic streams of the members of the Anthroposophical Society. These volumes constitute an immeasurable contribution to the understanding of reincarnation and karma, and the tasks of the Anthroposophical Society in connection with the Archangel Michael. This book tackles the core problem of how painful historical memories between diverse religious communities continue to impact—even poison—present-day relations. Its operative notion is the healing of memory, developed by John Paul II. Chapters explore how painful memories of yesteryear can be healed and so address some of the root causes. Strategies from six different faith traditions are brought together in what is, in some ways, a cross-religious brainstorming session that identifies tools to improve present-day relations. At the other pole of the conceptual axis of this book is the notion of hope. If memory informs our past, hope sets the horizon for our future. How does the healing of memory open new horizons for the future? And what is the notion of hope in each of our traditions that could lead to a common vision of good? Between memory and hope, this book seeks to offer a vision of healing that can serve as a resource in contemporary interfaith relations. Marie Steiner -- the wife of Rudolf Steiner and one of his closest colleagues -- made a great contribution to the development of anthroposophy, particularly in her tireless work on the renewal of the performing arts (eurythmy, speech, and drama), and the editing and publishing of Rudolf Steiner's literary estate. However, as Hans Peter van Manen argues, the anthroposophical movement is like a listing ship in that, as time has gone on, "far more has come to be known about Ita Wegman, in the karmic sense, than about Marie Steiner." In publishing this reworked lecture, van Manen goes some way toward redressing the imbalance, presenting the results of his own carefully considered thoughts on the subject of Marie Steiner's karmic past. In doing so, he links her to a well-known individuality connected with Aristotle in ancient Greece.

Spirit teacher Alexander offers a richly detailed exploration of life, death, and reincarnation, illuminating the hidden influences on your life. He first explores how your higher self has crafted your life (choosing your parents; soul age and aspect; gender and sexual orientation, etc.). Earthly Cycles then illuminates the mysteries of death, karma, and reincarnation, detailing how karma is built up and released, and how karmic relationships may be recast into other lifetimes. Finally, Alexander describes how you can live a karma-free life and make the world a more peaceful, loving place with the support of your spirit guides. Earthly Cycles will deepen your spiritual insights into your life, your relationships, and the world we share. Robert F. Butts (husband of Jane Roberts, author of the Seth Material) says in his Foreword: "Alexander gives fresh insight into what is probably the oldest, most basic set of questions we mortals struggle with."

Do you have "memories" not of this life and time? Have you ever experienced a déjà vu? Does the idea of reincarnation fascinate you? Have you ever wondered if this is all there is? "If you are a spiritual seeker, if you are on a journey of self-discovery, if you are aware of the speed at which life is moving, if you are learning to listen and heed your intuition, if you have experienced the synchronicity of life, if you are learning to love unconditionally, if you long for 'Home'... "If you suffer from anxiety, phobias, or emotional blocks, if you have ever felt disempowered, if you want to know more about the karmic residue of the past, the Higher Self, the Inner Guide, the Soul's purpose, if you want to gain insight through the shared stories of others on their journey back to Oneness, if you have ever felt spiritually isolated and alone...you will find resonance here...insight...perhaps answers." — from the Introduction The Light of Roses is an exploration of past-life regression as a form of healing, witnessed through fascinating case studies and the author's own spiritual journey.

This set includes all six volumes of Interreligious Reflections. ABOUT VOLUME ONE: Friendship is an outcome of, as well as a condition for, advancing interfaith relations. However, for friendship to advance, there must be legitimation from within and a theory of how interreligious relations can be justified from the resources of different faith traditions. Friendship Across Religions explores these very issues, seeking to develop a robust theory of interreligious friendship from the resources of each of the participating traditions. It also features individual cases as models and precedents for such relations—in particular, the friendship of Gandhi and Charlie Andrews, his closest personal friend. Contributors: Balwant Singh Dhillon, Timothy J. Gianotti, Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Maria Reis Habito, Ruben L. F. Habito, Ryan McAnnally-Linz, Stephen Butler Murray, Eleanor Nesbitt, Anantanand Rambachan, Meir Sendor, Johann M. Its operative notion is the healing of memory, developed by John Paul II. Chapters explore how painful memories of yesteryear can be healed and so address some of the root causes. ABOUT VOLUME THREE: The essays collected here, prepared by a think tank of the Elijah Interfaith Academy, explore the challenges associated with sharing wisdom—learning, teachings, messages for good living. How should religions go about sharing their wisdom? These chapters, representing six faith tradition (Jewish, Christian, Muslim, Hindu, Sikh, and Buddhist), explore what wisdom means in each of these traditions; why and how it should be shared, internally and externally; and the role of love and forgiveness in sharing. This book offers a theory that can enrich ongoing encounters between members of faith traditions by suggesting a tradition-based practice of sharing wisdom, while preserving the integrity of the teaching and respecting the identity of anyone with whom wisdom is shared. Contributors: Pal Ahluwalia, Timothy Gianotti, Alon

Goshen-Gottstein, Sallie B. King, Anantanand Rambachan, Meir Sender, Miroslav Volf ABOUT VOLUME FOUR: All the world's religions are experiencing rapid change due to a confluence of social and economic global forces. Factors such as the pervasive intrusion of globalizing political and economic developments, polarized and morally equivalent presentations seen in the media, and the sense of surety demanded in and promised by a culture dominated by science are some of the factors that have placed extreme pressure on all religious traditions. This has stimulated unprecedented responses by religious groups, ranging from fundamentalism to the syncretistic search for meaning. As religion takes on new forms, the balance between individual and community is disrupted and reconfigured. Religions often lose the capacity to recall their ultimate purpose or lead their adherents toward it. This is the situation we call "the crisis of the holy." It is a confluence of threats, challenges, and opportunities for all religions. This volume explores the contours of pressures, changes, and transformations and reflects on how all our religions are changing. By identifying commonalities across religions as they respond to these pressures, The Crisis of the Holy recommends ways religious traditions might cope with these changes and how they might join forces in doing so. Contributors: Vincent J. Cornell, Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Sidney H. Griffith, Maria Reis Habito, B. Barry Levy, Deepak

Sarma, Michael von Brück ABOUT VOLUME FIVE: The chapters collected in this book, prepared by a think tank of the Elijah Interfaith Academy, address the subject of religious leadership. The subject is of broad relevance in the training of religious leaders and in the practice of religious leadership. As such, it is also germane to religious thought, where reflections on religious leadership occupy an important place. What does it mean to be a religious leader in today's world? To what degree are the challenges that confront religious leadership today the same perennial challenges that have arrested the attention of the faithful and their leaders for generations, and to what degree do we encounter challenges today that are unique to our day and age? One dimension is surely unique, and that is the very ability to explore these issues from an interreligious perspective and to consider challenges, opportunities, and strategies across religious traditions. Studying the theme across six faith traditions—Christianity, Islam, Judaism, Sikhism, Hinduism, and Buddhism—The Future of Religious Leadership: World Religions in Conversation recognizes the common challenges to present-day religious leadership. Contributors: Awet Andemicael, Timothy J. Gianotti, Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Anantanand Rambachan, Maria Reis Habito, Meir Sendor, Balwant Singh Dhillon, Miroslav Volf VOLUME SIX: One of the biggest challenges for relations between religions is the view of the religious Other. The question touches the roots of our theological views. The Religious Other: Hostility, Hospitality, and the Hope of Human Flourishing explores the views of multiple religious traditions on how to regard otherness. How does one move from hostility to hospitality? How can hospitality be understood not simply as social hospitality but as theological hospitality, making room for the religious Other on theological grounds? What is our vision for the flourishing of the Other, while respecting his otherness? This volume is an exercise in constructive interreligious theology. By including Abrahamic and non-Abrahamic traditions, it approaches these challenges from multiple perspectives, highlighting commonalities in approach and ways in which one tradition might inspire another. The Compassionate Samadhi Water Repentance is a well-known text in the Chinese Buddhist tradition. It was written by Tang Dynasty practitioner Master Wu-da after an encounter with the force of karmic retribution that manifested as a human-faced boil on his knee. Having personally experienced the inevitable results of karma, Master Wu-da wrote this text to caution future generations and make clear the necessity of repentance. Master Cheng Yen taught The Compassionate Samadhi Water Repentance for five years in hopes that people would better understand the principles of repentance practice and apply Dharma-water to wash away the impurities in their hearts, thus approaching her goal of purifying people's hearts. With the wisdom gained from applying the Buddha-Dharma as the founder of Tzu Chi Foundation, Master Cheng Yen brings out the teachings of the Compassionate Samadhi Water Repentance for modern readers. Her teaching of the Water Repentance not only promotes Great Vehicle repentance practices but also establishes a unique model for her disciples to follow. By integrating the Tzu Chi spirit into the teachings of the Water Repentance, she sheds a new and unique light upon the Buddha's teachings and makes them relevant for modern living. Dharma as Water, Volume Two In volume two of Dharma as Water, A Commentary on the Compassionate Samadhi Water Repentance, Master Cheng Yen explains how we can repent the karmic obstruction of afflictions. 'Afflictions' come from delusion. A deluded thought will give rise to the three subtle afflictions of greed, anger, and ignorance. These lead people to create karma, which results in them facing karmic retributions. Master Cheng Yen encourages her Buddhist disciples to engage in spiritual practice, take good care of their hearts, and lead others in the practice of repentance. Only by developing a reverence for the Buddha's teachings and treating one another with great compassion can we bring peace to the world.

chooses its incarnations and how to astrologically interpret many different paths toward self-realization (Soul-remembering). The lead characters in the journey are Pluto and the Lunar Nodes. Includes chart examples and over 25 graphics. Untying The Karmic Knot joins past-life regression and life-between-lives regression, uniting them in an amazingly powerful and effective process that brings healing to current life challenges. These regressions reveal the source of difficult relationships, depression, anger, addiction, phobias, abandonment issues, unexplained anxiety and body pains. Rather than originating in this life, these problems come forward from a past life. This untying of the original Karmic Knot releases those spirits bound in that ongoing struggle. When that past life ends our spirit enters the afterlife, a realm of unconditional love. Our spirit guide meets us to share knowledge about our current life: the lessons, our soul's purpose on earth, and where we find meaning in our present life. Diane Morrin, M.A., a Licensed Professional Counselor in Montana, earned her bachelor's degree in Sociology from the University of California, and her master's degree in Transpersonal Counseling Psychology from the Naropa University, Boulder, CO. Her training continued in lifebetween- lives regression with Dr. Michael Newton, Ph.D., author of "Journey of Souls." The book is focused on identifying issues and problems which may have been overlooked or not identified earlier. The book also investigates our real-life relationship problems by exploring through the scope of emotional issues. Each chapter has a different issue or problem which was left unresolved as our marriage came to an end. I will attempt to gain insight into what went wrong through consulting healers of Wicca, the higher power, Shamans, therapists & counsellors alike, to identify the root cause(s) of why this happened to us. This book will guide you through a process that I took to rebuild my life after love. Perhaps this may shine a light in the dark place you find yourself in. Each chapter investigates a different way of healing one's emotional state. The sections are not chronologically connected or interconnected from one to the other, so you can read the chapter(s) that are relevant to you. issue. This book focuses on the problem, and for that reason, we do not elaborate on vast information that leads to a prolonged diagnosis. The focus here is simplicity. So, it happened, what I never even dreamt of happening in my wildest dreams. Many of us never look at the things that could potentially go wrong when some of us are in love. Why would some of us want to do that, when life's fantastic, and some of us find ourselves on top of the world in our unique merry little world, where things are unrealistically perfect. Until one day, the penny drops! And one person wants out of the relationship, one day out of nowhere, it's over. Sometimes there are no explanations and those magic words which once brought joy to one's heart; have now brought sorrow. "I love you," turns into, "I don't love you anymore." Those words which we never want to hear are expressed most intensely. I needed an explanation of what happened and who was to blame. The thing is that it all happened in a blink of an eye, for me anyway. So, I started researching and documenting data that I found, which has turned into this book. I am a sociologist and a criminologist, so, because I study human behaviour, I thought of investigating what happened within my marriage. What makes this book intriguing is that I am also an empath, so I can sense other people's emotions, and in some cases, I can feel other people's pain. So, this book contains my investigative data explained through exceptional perspectives which have encapsulated ideas and suggestions from Wicca and herbal healers alike. Sharman's have also been encouraged to give insight on some issues and problems which couldn't be explored through conventional means due to the severity of emotional baggage issues. Which seemed to be connected to unpaid-Karma debts, which, according to the healers, needed to be paid. Which many of us accumulate over a while through our actions, so, seemingly, my Karmic debt was overdue. Therefore, some of us have karmic debt, and sometimes need to take stock of this; to pay back our dues in life. Because sometimes we need to pay the bill for our actions. I lost my life partner because this was the price that I had to pay for my karmic debt to be settled. So, read intently and find out where things went wrong and why; more importantly, you may see something in this book that may salvage your relationship or marriage. Subsequently, if your reading this book, it may be the case that the worst has happened, and you are trying to put your life back together. This is a chance to perhaps understand situations in the past, which sometimes never made much sense to why it happened.
