The Norfolk coast is besieged by a series of murders - can Hugh Corbett find the killer? The Song of a Dark Angel is the eighth mystery in Paul Doherty's medieval series featuring intrepid sleuth Hugh Corbett. Perfect for fans of Robin Hobb and Michael Jecks. November 1302, and Sir Hugh Corbett, Edward I's Keeper of the Secret Seal, together with his manservant, Ranulf, and messenger, Maltote, are sent to Mortlake Manor on the Norfolk coast to confront an evil rarely seen before. A man's headless corpse, its head impaled on a pole, has been found on a beach and the pretty young wife of a local baker has been found hanging from a gallows. The scene is set for more gruesome deaths and Corbett soon realises that the icy wastes of Norfolk, where the eerie song of the Dark Angel wind chills those that live in the small villages along the coast, are just as treacherous as the silken intrigue at the royal court or the violence of London's fetid alleyways... What readers are saying about The Song of a Dark Angel: 'Paul Doherty's understanding of [the period's] political, social and religious history brings this medieval masterpiece alive' 'Paul's flair for the atmospheric and his skill with the mysterious combine to produce a page turning medieval mystery that I thoroughly enjoyed' 'Well written, good mystery that keeps you guessing until the end' The collection of late-antique and medieval ivory and bone carvings surveyed in this catalogue and housed in the Liverpool Museum has an international reputation. This book is both a catalogue and an assessment of each item from an historical as well as an art historical perspective.

Her mother called her Angel but now she's a fallen woman. There are different opinions as to what happened to Evangeline O'Leary's mother. Her younger sisters believe the story that she's in heaven. But Evie has heard the gossips - that her ma upped and left with the man she had an affair with while Evie's dad was fighting in the war. As the eldest, Evie has become 'mum' to her three siblings, all while holding down a job at the Tate & Lyle Sugar Factory. But when her childhood sweetheart leaves for Canada, he leaves Evie with more than just a broken heart. Her father agrees to keep the Birmingham, with crime and vandalism all around, they stepped out in faith and took down the barbed wire and high walls. Gradually but unmistakably they saw their community begin to turn to Christ for healing and eternal life. With refreshing honesty about the hard times as well as the rewarding times, this is the gripping story of how a small, defensive fellowship became a thriving church able to plant a new congregation in a neighbouring district. With a new introduction for the 2017 edition by Wallace Brown.

Endorsements 'A fine and inspiring book.' Michael I. Bochenski, Former President of the Baptist Union of Great Britain 'Whatever church you are part of, this book will bring you hope.' Nick and Lois Cuthbert, Riverside Church, Birmingham. 'I recommend the book to all who are seeking to understand the 'toil, joy and tears' that this work entails.' Rt Reverend Mark Santer, former Bishop of Birmingham. 'I was very thankful to read about the faith and commitment of Wallace and his family. I pray that it will encourage many Christians to serve in areas like the Outer Estates, and to persevere.' David Shepherd, former Bishop of Liverpool. 'Wallace and Mary's story is truly amazing. You can't help but be drawn into their lives. On the one hand we share their tragedies, trials and tribulations of persecution and vandalism of living and working in an inner city parish church and then we share in their triumphs when they trusted God and overcame everything that was thrown at them.' Amazon reviewer. Wallace and Mary Brown ministered at St Boniface Church on the Quinton estate in Birmingham for 18 years. They travelled widely to address church leaders of many denominations about the specific challenges of ministry on urban outer estates. They are now retired and live in Herefordshire.

From the poverty of post-war England and Ireland to the glitz and glamour of Hollywood's golden age, a beautiful, sweeping family drama that illustrates that the bonds between a mother and daughter can never be broken.

An unwanted child: San Francisco, 1958. On a dark December night, a baby girl is left at the Sisters of Charity Orphanage on Telegraph Hill. A mysterious suicide: One year later, movie star Frances Fitzgerald takes her own life. Her husband, wealthy businessman Maximilian Stanhope, is rumoured to know more about her death than he's letting on, but nothing is ever proved.

A terrible secret: What is the connection between these two events? That's what Frances's daughter, Cara, wants to find out. Abandoned by her mother when she is just seven years old, her childhood is filled with hardship and loss. As a young woman she finds professional success as a journalist, but on a personal level, she still struggles to trust those around her. Soon Cara becomes convinced that uncovering the secret behind her mother's death is the only way to lay her demons to rest, but learning the truth may end up tearing her apart.

Bravery and fortitude are essential for two young nurses to survive the Great War... Lyn Andrews' saga, Liverpool Angels, is a haunting and unforgettable tale of nursing in the battlefields of the First World War. Perfect for fans of Nadine Dorries and Maureen Lee. Born at the turn of the twentieth century, Mae Strickland is only a few days old when her mother suddenly dies. Her aunt Maggie brings Mae up together with her own children, Eddie and Alice, and the girls become like sisters. In spite of Mae's unhappy start, life feels full of promise. Then, as the First World War looms, everything changes. While the local men - including young Eddie - leave to fight, Mae and Alice train as field nurses. As they travel to the front line in the wake of family tragedy, nothing can prepare them for the hardship that lies ahead. Yet there is solace to be found amid the wreckage of the war, and for both, romance is on the horizon. But it will take great courage for Mae and Alice to follow their hearts. Can love win out in the end? What Amazon readers are saying about Liverpool Angels: 'As in all of Lyn Andrews' books that I've read, she has a great talent for weaving emotion into her writing. You feel connected to her characters, and get really invested in their lives and their struggles' 'The research that Lyn has put into this book is wonderful, it has so much detail and depth as if she has experienced this first hand. You can really get deep into the story and feel as if you are experiencing it with Alice and Mae' 'Well written, believable and emotive' references, time travel, political satire, revenge - and just a little bit of Beatles. Now for the first time, get all three FAB books rolled into one. FAB 1980. John Lennon survives the assassin's bullet. But with his showbiz career stuck in in the doldrums, the legendary songwriter is now chasing a career in mainstream politics. And much to the horror of some onlookers, this 1980s version of Lennon is a far cry from the radical left-winger of old. Soon he becomes an unstoppable force in American politics. The working-class hero is transformed into a right wing poster boy. There's even talk of a Beatle in the White House. FAB: The Fifth Angel 1995. John Lennon: Whereabouts Unknown The former Beatle and Presidential candidate is now the world's most wanted man. Nobody has seen or heard from him in seven years. Until now. Former FBI Agent, Frank Vogel has been hot on Lennon's tail since he disappeared in 1988. Just as Vogel is on the brink of giving up the chase, a rumour comes floating across the Atlantic that might - at last - lead him to the elusive Lennon. FAB: The Fifth Angel is a gripping, revenge-driven tale of cat and mouse that's set in New York, London and Liverpool. FAB: Revolver The year is 2146. Time travel is possible. Artificial intelligence has all but replaced the human workforce and even immortality might be just around the corner. This is the future that John Lennon has woken up to. The former Beatle - having undergone experimental cryosleep in the late twentieth century - is now cast adrift in twenty-second century New York. But not for long. A killer has been sent back to the 1960s to kill the young John Lennon and erase The Beatles from history. And somebody has to go back and stop him. Pick up The Complete FAB Trilogy today - a splendid time is guaranteed for all.

Spanning Duffy's career from her early development & involvement with the Liverpool poets in the 1970s, through to the poet's most recent collection, Rees-Jones acknowledges the important of her popular appeal but also makes a case for Duffy as a serious & important poet who engages with key issues of gender & identity. Set in an alternate reality 1990s Liverpool, India, Tibet and the heavenly planet Chandraloka (also known as the Moon), Angels Chic is the gripping tale of two unusual individuals attempting to cope with contrasting lives of chaos and a high-tech high-octane career. Their discovery of a teleport machine sets them off on a trip of external and internal discovery, poses questions of ethics, conspiracy, mental health and philosophy, and puts them at odds with the modern Bavarian Illuminati as they seek an ancient and transcendental treasure without equal.

Ludovico Carracci (1555-1619) was a pivotal innovator in Italian painting at the turn of the seventeenth century. Carracci's highly individual approaches to religious subjects made him one of the great interpreters of Christian art, and the dramatic lighting and emotionality of his pictures exerted a seminal influence on Italian painting. Carracci was a prolific draftsman who produced over 300 extant drawings. His drawings offer the key to his artistic personality, because he conceived his original subjects, studied his figures from life, and planned his painted compositions in these sheets. Thus his drawings reveal how he thought, how his ideas changed, and which features of a composition were most important or challenging to his creative imagination. But Ludovico's drawings were not only preparatory studies for his pictures. He was also an innovator in developing finished compositional drawings that were produced as works of art in their own right, made for sale to a new audience of private collectors in Bologna. This groundbreaking study of Ludovico Carracci's drawings examines his style, methods, iconography, and chronology, also considering the historical context of Carracci's native city and the portrayal of women in the artist's work. Discussing drawings in relation to contemporary religious, social, and intellectual developments, the book's five chapters analyze pertinent aspects of early modern Bologna, Carracci's development as a painter, earlier traditions for works on paper in the city, and the artist's production of drawings. The book concludes with a fully illustrated catalogue raisonne of Ludovico's autograph drawings, questionable sheets, and rejected attributions.

Bubbles of cold sweat trickled down Faye's spine. The hole wasn't empty. Before she could turn and run, she caught the two sightless eyes staring up at her. Only then did she scream. When Faye Baker discovers a fragile child's skull behind the walls of her new home, Detective Lottie Parker is called to investigate. The house has been owned for years by the family of Faye's boyfriend Jeff, so when Jeff starts acting suspiciously, Lottie wonders what he might be hiding... Lottie doesn't have long to dig deeper before a child's bones are found by eleven-year-old Gavin on nearby railway tracks. The bones don't match the small skull behind the walls, but Lottie can't ignore the coincidence. Someone out there must be missing their loved ones and it's up to her to put right a terrible wrong. Unable to shake a feeling of foreboding, Lottie goes to speak to Faye, and discovers that she hasn't turned up for work. When Faye's body is inquiries about our faith in inward light, in consequence of thy sermon but I am unwilling to believe that, as a Christian minister of high religious profession, thou wouldst intentionally libel any religious body, knowing it cannot be consistent with that charity, without which we have no mean authority for affirming, even should any one speak with the tongue Of angels, he is become but as sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal. There fore, as a member of a body stigmatized from the pulpit and press of our city as one holding a dangerous error, may I respectfully ask to be informed what thy views are of our erroneous profession in this respect? The Scripture says, Ephesians 5 chap. 13 But all things that are reprov'd, are made manifest by the light, for whatsoever doth make manifest is light.' Our Saviour calls himself the light of the world. And his apostle says, Romans 8th chap. V. 9 - But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that the Spirit Of God dwell in you. Know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you except ye be reprobates - 2nd Cor. 13th Chap. 5. From the tenor Of thy reported sermons it would appear to be inculcated by thy teaching that the Scrip tural record was the only light. Surely the Holy Scriptures are not the light, but an emanation from the light. That was the true light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. Trusting to thy Christian candour to be informed if the phrase, as reported in the sermon, was intended to be an impeachment of my religious profession, or can be explained in any different sense.
